Meetings

- The team will hold at least one fixed meeting per week (decided by overlapping availabilities in a calendar), with additional meetings (1–2 per week) scheduled as needed.
- Meetings will primarily be held on Discord calls. In-person meetings may be arranged if necessary.
- If a member is unavailable, they must notify the team 24 hours before, or at the very latest, the morning of the meeting.

Temporal

Be punctual:

- Meetings start five minutes after the scheduled time.
- Attendance is expected unless unavoidable (illness, emergencies).

Meetings continue until:

a) Tasks are completed,
b) There is a unanimous adjournment, or
c) A member must leave early with a valid reason.

Roles rotate each meeting:

- Leader – sets sub-goals (with group approval), maintains agenda, keeps time, ensures voices are heard, posts recap.
- Secretary – records notes, maintains documentation, and prepares presentation materials.

Procedural

Come prepared:

- Read assigned materials.
- Bring ideas for tasks and decisions.
- Complete tasks by deadlines. If a delay is likely, notify the group early and seek help.
- End each meeting with a short evaluation of progress and group mechanics.
- Members may respectfully point out when rules are broken.

Work Planning and Distribution

- Task creation: Each task includes a goal, acceptance criteria, owner, estimate, and due date.
- Assignment: Self-select tasks during planning; lead balances load if uneven.
- Pairing: Encourage pair programming for complex items and onboarding

Behavioural

- Decisions aim for consensus; all voices should be heard.
- Assume good intent, focus critiques on work, not people.
- It's okay to say "I don't know." Ask early, ask often.

Conflict Resolution

- Isolate disagreement and try to reach a consensus.
- If unresolved, the leader evaluates the importance; may postpone discussion if minor.
- If needed, the leader sets a time limit for debate before calling a vote.
- If the vote is tied, the leader makes the final decision.

Amendments

Further changes to this contract must be decided either by a team poll or through unanimous agreement.
